Generating Visual Ideas

Carol Blackwell AV113957

Where do our ideas come from, if they do, and how is it possible to generate new ones for our artistic work to find something original and fresh to put on paper or canvas? Like all artists, we struggle continually with this issue as it is not always easily solvable. This workshop will provide uncomplicated "how-to" techniques for discovering spontaneous ideas and heretofore unconsidered ways of working, resulting in a more authentic visual vocabulary. For all levels of artists in all mediums, drawing, painting, collage, printmaking and three-dimensional media.
